

FEBRUARY NEWS AND EVENTS

ARTIST IN RESIDENCE
PROGRAM RETURNS

After a pandemic pause, the magic of our Artist in Residence program is back, ready to sprinkle its spark on the School Overnight Program (SOP) once again!

The Artist in Residence program is a portal to deeper understanding, a bridge that connects SOP students to the wonders of nature and the rich tapestry of human connection through the vibrant canvas of creative expression.

GARDEN

Students have been busy in the garden lately, learning all kinds of things, including how to make their own origami seed packets! Check out this blog post to see what else has been happening in the garden. Read more →

FOR EDUCATORS

INTRO TO LOCALIZING
NATIONAL SCIENCE UNITS

IslandWood has been working with teachers, the developers of Amplify Science, school district partners and Educational Service Districts on an approach to localizing national science units and we'd love to share it with you! Join us for this free workshop on Mar 6th on Zoom as we explore examples and think about what this could look like in the science you are teaching this spring. Learn more →

EEC GRADUATE PROGRAM

EEC GRAD PROGRAM

COMMUNITY EVENTS

SPIRIT WHALES
& SLOTH TALES

Calling all dino enthusiasts! Join us on Sun, Mar 17 from 2 - 4pm for a lecture by David B. Williams, co-author of "Spirit Whales and Sloth Tales: Fossils of Washington State," exploring the state's rich fossil history. Learn about fossil discoveries, their geological context, and their relevance to issues like climate change and extinction. Enjoy fun activities like making a shark tooth necklace, digging for fossils, and creating fossil art. Plus, see a local's collection of fossils found right on Bainbridge Island!

David will be available to sell his books and to answer questions for all ages about what he's learned about paleontology in Washington State.
